

Economic Boycott Against Italy Planned If Mussolini Launches War in Ethiopia

NEW DEAL IS ATTACKED BY MANY LEADERS

Several Addresses Are Delivered On Eve Of Constitution Day

Washington, Sept. 16.—(P)—Demands for new reverence toward the constitution were sounded by political and public leaders tonight in speeches projecting possibilities of a bitter clash over new deal laws at the 138th anniversary of the document's ratification.

The occasion was tomorrow's 138th anniversary of the document's ratification. Persons skeptical of the attitude of the Roosevelt administration toward the historic paper—including Herbert Hoover—prepared to participate in tomorrow's ceremonies. The administration's viewpoint was scheduled to come from Secretary Roper in an address on "forward with the constitution."

In a radio address tonight, J. Edgar Hoover, president of the American Liberty League of which Alfred E. Smith and John J. Raskob are members, vehemently assailed the new deal program. He said this to say of the constitution:

"The constitution can and will be altered when there is overwhelming sentiment for such a course, but it must not be destroyed through illegal acts of any administrative official or the attempt by congress to arrogate to itself power that has never been delegated. x x x

"It is a vital factor in the daily life of every man and woman who listens to me tonight. It is the protector of your liberties, the guardian of your opportunities. x x x It was because of its insidious and persistent efforts to undermine the constitution that the American Liberty League was formed a year ago."

He stated the organization would make any effort to limit the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., appeared before the National Conference of Republican Women in New York, B. O. and Gray, she quoted words of Washington on the constitution and said:

"We are gathered today to testify our belief in the constitution of our country. On that rock our forefathers built this nation, on that rock it must stand."

Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the G. O. P. National committee will address the group tomorrow.

Two former governors, Joseph B. Ely, Democrat of Massachusetts, and Frank O. Lowden, Republican of Illinois, were on a constitutional program of the United League Club in Chicago.

FIRE DESTROYS HOTEL

Kittery, Me., Sept. 16.—(P)—Fire, described by authorities as of suspicious origin, today destroyed the Parkfield hotel on whose sign a huge swastika was painted Friday night.

Located at Kittery Point, the four-story, 35-room structure, owned by David Hurovitz of Boston, had been closed for the season. Damage was estimated by Chief Engineer James P. Coleman of the Kittery Point fire department at $8,000.

CRASH VICTIMS

Alhambra, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Four men were injured in an automobile crash near here today. They were Foster T. Beaudry, Evanston, stationed at Chanute Field, Rantoul; his brother, W. H. Beaudry, C. C. Rindan, Chicago; and V. G. Mendt, Columbus, Ohio.

Foster Beaudry was taken to the Chanute Field hospital and the others were taken to a Bloomington hospital.

Weather

For Jacksonville and vicinity—Local showers or thunderstorms are predicted for today with fair to partly cloudy and cooler weather promised for Wednesday.

The U. S. Co-operative Weather Bureau at the Norbury Sanitarium last night gave temperatures as: High 92; current 78 and low 60. Barometer readings were: A. M. 30.16; P. M. 30.08.

Illinois—Local showers or thunderstorms Tuesday; Wednesday fair to partly cloudy, with cooler in central and north portions.

Indiana—Scattered showers or thunderstorms Tuesday and possibly Wednesday; cooler Wednesday in north-west.

Wisconsin—Partly cloudy, warmer in north portion Tuesday; local showers Tuesday night, with generally fair and cooler Wednesday.

Missouri—Generally fair Tuesday and Wednesday, preceded by thunder showers in south portion Tuesday; warmer Tuesday in northwest; cooler Wednesday.

Iowa—Generally fair, warmer in east and south portions Tuesday; Wednesday partly cloudy and cooler, ret.

Geneva, Sept. 16.—(P)—Certain League of Nations members, seeking a way to keep Mussolini from war, were reported from reliable sources tonight to have gone to work on a preliminary plan for a "protective" economic boycott of Italy if she should launch unprovoked hostilities in Ethiopia.

The disclosure came as the league assembly concluded a general debate marked by repeated expressions of fidelity to the league covenant and climaxed by a diplomatic brush between Soviet Russia and Poland during which the Polish delegates walked out on a speech by Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian foreign commissar.

Those who professed to be lost to the boycott conversations insisted that this "protective boycott" could not be considered tantamount to an economic blockade.

They explained that the word "blockade" immediately conjures up the use of warships to enforce it. Employment of warships, it was explained, might eventually be necessary, but for the moment the fundamental idea is a self-denying ordinance whereby league states would pledge themselves to have no economic relations with Italy.

For those states which have no direct trade with Italy, the scheme, if it develops, might eventually take the form of a pledge to prohibit transportation of goods across their territories which are destined for Italy.

The British delegation, asked this evening about the boycott reports, authorized the following statement:

"The British and French governments have had from time to time conversations concerning what action might be pursued in the event of certain things happening. But the British government has made no definite proposals."

It was remarked in league circles that a general boycott against Italy might in the long run be most embarrassing for that country because of Italy's need for obtaining raw materials from abroad.

He did express the hope of some early talk with the British with a view to naval limitations.

As for action by the United States in the event of hostilities he emphasized this was not implied by the treaty.

Describing his talk with the president as principally social, Davis said he did not think there was much possibility of new naval limitations agreements while the threat of war is on.

ROOSEVELT AND DAVIS DISCUSS WAR SITUATION

No Thought Of U. S. Intervention, Claim

By Francis M. Stephenson
Associated Press Staff Writer
Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt discussed the possibility of further naval limitations over the tea cups today with Norman Davis, American representative to the preliminary negotiations. Davis afterward expressed doubt of new agreements.

With the British fleet steaming into the Mediterranean in the Italian-Ethiopian crisis, Mr. Roosevelt leisurely talked over the situation with Davis and Mrs. Davis at tea.

Davis, upon his return to the temporary executive office at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie, said that the foreign situation was discussed like any other exciting news of the day, but that there was no thought of American intervention.

So far as the foreign situation is concerned, Mr. Davis said the British have taken the initiative.

He spoke discouragingly of the possibility of future naval limitations which he has been seeking as this country's representative.

The naval treaties of Washington and London prescribing ratios among the United States, Great Britain and Japan expire next year.

As for the Kellogg peace pact, Davis said it provided moral obligation on the part of this government to help prevent war and this is being done.

As for action by the United States in the event of hostilities he emphasized this was not implied by the treaty.

Great Britain Pushing Many Warships to Mediterranean To Reinforce Great Fleet

Widow of Long May Be Senator

The seat in the U. S. Senate made vacant by the assassination of Huey P. Long may be occupied by his widow, shown above. Attempts are being made to induce her to accept the appointment to avert war for the spoils among Huey's henchmen. The action was taken when Mrs. Thaddeus Caraway of Arkansas took the seat made vacant by the death of her husband.

BRITISH SHIP SENDS OUT AN S. O. S. CALL

Steamer May Kingsley Is In Distress Off Irish Coast

New York, Sept. 16.—(P)—The S. S. Washington messaged tonight that the British steamer May Kingsley had sent a distress call, saying the ship was taking water in a heavy Atlantic gale and most of the crew was injured.

The Washington reported that the Captain of the Kingsley declined offers of several salvage tugs for towing purposes and that no ships were standing by.

The Kingsley was off the Irish coast.

The Belgian steamer Jean Jadot communicated with the Kingsley and offered to proceed to her if needed.

The British steamer Tamaros reported she hoped to reach the Kingsley by 11:30 (Greenwich Meridian time) tomorrow.

The Captain of the Kingsley said he had a cargo of locomotives.

The Kingsley is owned by the Elder Dempster lines, Ltd., of Liverpool, and plies between England and West Africa. She is of 4,017 gross tons.

The Captain asked for the assistance of large vessels to make a lee for the ship. He reported a southwest wind of gale force was blowing up "mountainous seas."

Suzanne S. Adams Dies of Injuries

Washington, Sept. 16.—(P)—Mrs. Suzanne Slayback Adams, 74, one-time St. Louis society leader, died in Garfield hospital today from injuries received Saturday when she fell down the steps at the home of her daughter, the Baroness Maximilian H. von Paterhard.

Mrs. Adams' father, Col. Alonzo Slayback, fought in the Civil War and for years was a leading figure in Missouri politics. He was shot to death in the editorial rooms of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in 1882 when he entered the office to dispute the paper's politics.

Mrs. Adams had lived with her daughter here since 1930. She suffered a stroke a year ago, but recovered and was in good health until her fall when she received a broken leg, a broken arm and a fractured skull.

She was the widow of Dr. Arthur Wellington Adams, an inventor.

Former Student Sent to Prison

Danville, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Wayne Clements, who claimed he was a former (Purdue) University honor student, was sentenced to three years in a federal reformatory today by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley for violation of the Dyer motor vehicle theft act.

Clements pleaded guilty to the theft of an automobile, clothing, a radio and other articles in Urbana last January.

He admitted having served a sentence at the Chillicothe, O. federal reformatory in 1930 on a similar charge.

By The Associated Press
London, Sept. 16.—(P)—Great Britain, moving behind a screen of official secrecy, pushed many men o'war southward tonight to reinforce her great Mediterranean fleet.

The Empire acted in the face of the tightening tension that followed last week's grave developments at Geneva and at Rome.

As the belief increased that another portentous meeting of ministers would assemble at No. Ten Downing street soon to discuss the whole situation, Great Britain's home fleet, assembled at Portland for maneuvers off Scotland, was suddenly depleted of all its swift destroyers.

At Gibraltar, the navy hastily swung a boom defense across the southern entrance of admiralty harbor and announced passage through it had been prohibited.

Gibraltar dispatched word of the arrival of five destroyers and a cruiser and the arrival and departure of the battleship Australia.

From Alexandria came reports of exercise of that Egyptian port by a "large number" of British warships, including two battleships, as planes droned overhead.

These developments followed the Italian cabinet communique of Saturday, which informed observers here regarded as decidedly bellicose and as virtually destroying the last Pacific hopes of averting Italo-Ethiopian hostilities.

Tonight all but five of nearly 150 first-line naval craft comprising the British and Mediterranean fleets were known definitely to be concentrated in the Mediterranean or were missing from English ports and thought to be enroute to that tense zone.

These included:

Five of the eight serviceable heavy battleships—all known to be in the vicinity of the Suez Canal.

Two of the three largest aircraft carriers anchored at Alexandria—the third is missing.

Two ace battle cruisers, the Hood and the Renown, whereabouts of which has not been reported.

Three ace cruiser squadrons of four ships each, are known definitely to be in the Alexandria vicinity and the third is missing from Portland.

Six destroyer flotillas of nine ships each, four known to be in the Mediterranean with the other two missing.

Two submarine flotillas, one of 10 subs and the other of six, both known to be in the Mediterranean.

In addition to these, ten mine-sweepers are stationed at Malta in addition to two dozen or more auxiliary craft normally at Malta or vicinity and the hospital ship Maine, which now is at Alexandria.

The movement, which sent the greatest number of men-of-war into the Mediterranean in nearly two decades, has been carried out swiftly—much of it secretly since the July jubilee review at Portsmouth when the fleet lined up for the King.

The aircraft carriers glorious and courageous, now at Alexandria, carrying 90 fighting and scout planes, while most other ships now in that vicinity carry one or more scout planes.

The fleet which is either assembled at or believed en route to the Mediterranean is in general fast, heavily armored and heavily gunned. The ships generally outnumber the Italian craft in all classes except submarines, in which category Great Britain is reported outnumbered about four or five to one.

Most British destroyers, however, bristle with torpedo tubes which make them formidable foes of the U-boat.

Woman Is Saved From Gallows

Long Beach, Cal., Sept. 16.—(P)—Mrs. Nellie Madison, convicted slayer of her fourth husband, was saved from the gallows today. Gov. Frank B. Merriam commuted her sentence to life imprisonment.

The husband, Eric Madison, a film studio worker, was found shot to death in a Burbank apartment in March, 1934. Mrs. Madison said she shot in self defense.

Almost at the same moment that the governor commuted her sentence the Supreme Court denied without comment a writ of coram nobis which would have brought a review of her case upon ground of alleged error of fact.

No woman has ever been executed by the state of California. Gov. Merriam made no public explanation of his action.

STEALS POOR BOX

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Quincy's candidate for the state's meaneast thief stole the poor box off the wall of St. Peter's Catholic church last night. Priests did not know how much money had been dropped in the box before it was taken.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Vandalia, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Aurist Plummer, 57, Sullivan, an inmate at the State Prison Farm here, was found hanging in the loft of a barn this afternoon. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

'GUFFEY BILL' TEST CASE WON BY GOVERNMENT

District Of Columbia Supreme Court Has Denied Writ

Washington, Sept. 16.—(P)—The government won the first round today in the battle for a constitutional test of the Guffey coal law.

In the District of Columbia Supreme Court, Justice Daniel O'Donoghue denied a request for a temporary injunction, intended to restrain the effectiveness of the act. It was sought by James W. Carter, president of the Carter Coal Company of Southern West Virginia.

O'Donoghue held that since there was a possibility the case would be heard on its merits before November 1, when the tax provisions of the law become effective, he saw no reason to grant a temporary restraining order.

The government must file an answer by September 25 to Carter's petition for a permanent injunction.

John Dickinson, assistant attorney general, denied a court room charge that the government was trying to delay a test of the act creating a "Little NRA" for the bituminous industry. He contended that since the 15 per cent tax on gross coal sales would not become effective until November 1, Carter's application was "premature."

Frederick H. Wood, who successfully challenged NRA's constitutionality in the United States Supreme Court, charged that in not immediately answering the unconstitutional challenge in the Carter suit "counsel wants to delay as long as it can."

"That's no so," Dickinson said, repeatedly.

"Nothing would please the plaintiff more than to have the case heard promptly," contended Wood, who appeared for Carter.

I. C. FRESHMAN CLASS SHOWS ROLL INCREASE

New Students Welcomed To Institution by President H. C. Jaquith

That the general increase in college enrollments throughout the country has evidenced itself at Illinois College was disclosed yesterday when the final enrollment of the Freshman class was completed. The class is well above the average in point of numbers and represents approximately 35% of the entire student body.

New students were welcomed to Illinois College by President H. C. Jaquith yesterday afternoon at an assembly of the class. After introducing the members of the faculty to the class the president pointed out to the students that certain adjustments would be necessary for them to make in point of time and mental attitude. He touched briefly upon the traditions of the college.

"These will be acquired slowly," the president said. "The importance of the history of Illinois College will be impressed upon you. We are proud of its history, and its present standing scholastically and athletically."

The class then divided for sectional meetings, and at the same hour President Jaquith entertained the parents of the freshmen at a reception at the President's House.

A picnic supper on the campus last night and a free show through the courtesy of the management of the Illinois Theater concluded the activities of the class for the day. The next meeting of the group will be an assembly at eight o'clock this morning at which time the curriculum will be explained by Dean R. H. Lacey.

MEREDOSIA INFANT PASSES AWAY AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Meredosia, Sept. 16.—(P)—The four months old son of Mrs. Gus Brakerville died at a hospital in Jacksonville Sunday. The little one had never been in good health and the past few weeks he failed so rapidly that it was necessary for him to have hospital care.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marie Brakerville and the following brothers and sisters, David, Helen, Edith, Alberta, Frank, Eddie, and Rosalie. The funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon with interment in Oakland cemetery.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(P)—John P. Boughan, market editor of the Associated Press, and Mrs. Boughan celebrated their golden wedding anniversary today at a high mass at St. Clement's church. They were married in Galveston, Tex., Cathedral on September 16, 1885.

Among those present at the anniversary was a daughter, Mrs. J. B. McNamara of West Newbury, Mass.

Huey Long's Bodyguard Weeps as He Tells Jury He Killed Dr. C. A. Weiss

LOWDEN SAYS CONSTITUTION IN JEOPARDY

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 16.—(P)—Joe Messina, the late Senator Huey P. Long's favorite bodyguard, wept today as he told a coroner's jury he killed Dr. C. A. Weiss, Jr., Long's assassin.

After hearing testimony from Messina and other bodyguards who poured lead into the body of Dr. Weiss, the jury returned a verdict that Dr. Weiss died from wounds in the head, chest and abdomen.

Under Louisiana law, a coroner's jury is required only to decide the form of a person's death and does not fix the blame in such cases. Further action is left to the prosecutor and grand jury.

Dramatically waving his hands, the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, organizer of Long's "share our wealth" societies, refused to answer questions and called District Attorney John Fred Odom a "murder plot conspirator."

There was much applause from some of those in the crowded courtroom, and Smith was slapped on the back by Long supporters when he was leaving the inquest.

The atmosphere was tense. Some of Long's bodyguards rose to their feet. About the same number of agents of the District Attorney's office likewise stood up.

Slowly rising to his feet, Odom said: "I care nothing for his opinion of me or my acts, but if he or anybody else says I engaged in any plot to kill Senator Huey Long, he is a witful, malicious and vicious liar."

There was applause. Odom laughed and the tension was broken.

Following the verdict, Odom, who conducted the inquiry, said as far as he was concerned the matter was closed.

Attorney General Gaston L. Porter said he did not know whether he would pursue the inquiry further.

Meanwhile, James O'Connor, Sr., assistant attorney general at New Orleans said a man, whom he declined to name, had come to his office and made an affidavit respecting an alleged murder plot against Senator Long and the affidavit had been "turned over to the proper authorities."

He refused to say what authorities.

At DeQueen, Ark. Dr. George S. Long of Tulsa, Okla., brother of the assassinated "dictator," said followers of the late Senator had evidence that a plot to murder him was instigated by four congressmen in a New Orleans hotel.

CHARGE MEAT PRICES FIXED BY PACKERS

Confidential Price Lists Are Placed In Record

Washington, Sept. 16.—(P)—Charges that a dozen packing houses combined over a period of six years to fix meat prices in Southern States were reiterated by the government today at a hearing abruptly terminated by the illness of a defense attorney.

With copies of alleged confidential price lists and maps purportedly designating price fixing zones put in to the record by the government, the hearing before Secretary Wallace was recessed to October 7. The packers' defense will be heard then.

If Wallace decides the packers did combine, a desist order may be issued, its violation punishable by heavy fine and imprisonment.

Continuance was asked when Frank J. Glankler of Memphis, chief defense attorney, became ill shortly before the government's case. Associate attorneys said Glankler had not entirely recovered from a severe recent illness.

More than 900 witnesses were examined in hearings following the original filing of charges at Memphis, Tennessee, Jackson, Mississippi, and Birmingham, Alabama. The record contains more than 24,000 pages.

The complaint alleged that the companies combined to control retail meat prices, to apportion sales in commerce and to keep out competition in Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Texas. Most of today's testimony, however, concerned alleged violations in Mississippi and Alabama.

The defendant companies are Armour and company, Abraham Brothers Packing company, the Cudahy packing company, John

We Go For Kitten Ball

The remarkable growth of interest in playground or kitten ball in Jacksonville is attested by the attendance at the night games played in the Nichols park field. The attendance averages about 900 people each evening, and sometimes it rises well above the 1,000 mark. The bleachers are always well filled, and around the edge of the field even more people are seated in their cars.

The soft ball games are sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. The new interest in them comes from the fact that lights have been placed on the field and the games are held at a time when people can most conveniently attend.
Games are played each week-day evening. There are 24 teams in the league, six being composed of girls.

The people find the ball park a pleasant place to spend an evening.
They are out of doors and are watching some lively contests for which they can vent their enthusiasm. The sport has thus proved a most pleasant means of summer recreation for all concerned. The games will continue to another month, or as long as the good weather holds out.

The grandstand at the park offers good accommodation for the fans.
But they also like to park their cars along the sidelines and to sit on the fences around the field. There is no formal manner of seating; but the people provide for themselves as best suits their comfort and convenience.
The games offer an informal gathering place for hundreds of citizens.

Constitution Day

One hundred forty-eight years ago today weary delegates who had been in convention 116 days affixed their signatures to a document that was to form the foundation of a great nation.
They called the document the "Constitution of the United States of America." It was a compromise, satisfying insofar as that was possible. It was to be the contract made by "the people of the United States," but it had yet to be sanctioned by the thirteen small colonies scattered along the Atlantic seaboard.

In course of time that was done, but not without a struggle. The colonies had known the oppression of England;
they had experienced the weakness of a central government under the Articles of Confederation; they were afraid of centralized power, because they had only recently bought their liberty with the blood of their citizens. In order to secure adoption of the Constitution, the first ten amendments, guaranteeing individual rights
under the new government, were added.
At last the new government was set up, and at once two parties arose to split the people into two factions
on the question of construing the Constitution.

The strict constructionists were for giving the new government the minimum of power allowed under the Constitution, while a more liberal view desired to interpret the provisions so as to include more power. Had we space to trace the history, it could be shown that the same groups exist today.

The constitution proved its value
through the years. It was the guide of a growing nation; it protected the weak, upheld the rights of the people, fostered freedom of speech and press, allowed a democracy such as no nation had ever experienced, and was liberal enough to permit a growth and prosperity that has made these United States the greatest nation on earth.

But the celebration of the birth of the Constitution has not been generally carried out until now. Awakening to the fact that there is danger that this Constitution under which liberty has been so well guarded, may be changed or done away, the people are taking a new interest in it and are emphasizing its importance.

The Constitution has been amended,
but only when there appeared to be a general need. It has never been amended to favor one class at the expense of another or to maintain the power of any party in the government. It is the basic law of the land, and to make general changes might easily alter the form of government to permit a dictatorship or such a centralizing of power as to destroy the rights of the 48 sovereign states of the Union.

Tonight a program in observance of Constitution day will be given at the high school auditorium. This is a patriotic celebration and merits the attendance and participation of all good citizens. Loyalty to the Constitution means loyalty to all the ideals of free government that have been fostered in America.

Italy Shows England Need of More Ships

By Bruce Catton
Whether the present quarrel over Ethiopia results in war or peace, you can safely make a large bet that it will be followed by some extensive naval building on the part of Great Britain.

It is not often that any potential enemy catches the British lion asleep,
but Mussolini seems to have done precisely that in the present argument.
British sea power, which has made the empire invulnerable for close to three centuries, is relatively at a low ebb in the Mediterranean today. As things stand now, if Italy and England went to war, the advantage would rest with Italy in the chosen field of operations.

For a great many years it was a cardinal point of British policy to maintain in the Mediterranean a fleet that would be stronger than any two Mediterranean fleets that could possibly be mustered against it. That situation does not obtain today. In the waters adjacent to Italy, Mussolini's fleet is actually the stronger.

England, to be sure, has infinitely greater reserves. By sending the home fleet to Malta, she could confront
Italy with an overwhelming force.
But to do so would be to leave the home front unprotected—a thing which in the present unsettled state of European politics Britain would be very loath to do.

But even if that were done, Italy would remain a potent force across the empire's most vital trade route.
Italy has some of the fastest, hardest-hitting cruisers afloat, a very large group of destroyer flotillas, and an abundance of up-to-date submarines.
What these could do in confined waters like the Mediterranean must give British admiralty officials nightmares.

Italy's strategic position across the trade route to the Suez canal was recognized as long ago as 1887, when Lord Salisbury made it a cardinal point of British policy to remain on friendly terms with Italy. For that reason Italy's growing naval strength never worried the authorities at London—until, overnight, the old policy was shelved and Italy was confronted as a possible foe.

Few things are certain in an uncertain world, but one certainty is that England will never let herself get caught twice in an unfavorable naval position. However, this current dispute comes out, you can take it for granted that the British fleet will be materially strengthened in the near future.

Since the American navy has been insisting on parity with the British new construction in England will mean demands for new construction in this country.

Before the new naval estimates are drawn up in London, Americans should review their own policy carefully. Will it be worth while for us to spend scores of millions on new ships simply because England is going to strengthen her Mediterranean fleet?

A Big Laugh on Herr Hitler

One day last July there was a nasty little riot aboard the German liner Bremen in New York harbor. The riot occurred when the New Yorkers objected to the unfurling of a swastika flag, and the cops had to be called to restore order.

By way of showing its appreciation for the officers' services, the North German Lloyd steamship line made them gifts of money. The officers had to get permission from their superiors to accept the gifts; and so,
the other day, it came out that one of the men thus rewarded was Detective Matthew Solomon, who is as Jewish as the ancient king.

And in this dryly humorous little story there is all the commentary needed on the essential brainlessness of Nazi anti-Semitism. Here we have a Jewish policeman being rewarded for protecting the Nazi flag from attack by Jews. The joke would seem to be on Herr Hitler.

Wrecked Car Ends Search; Driver Is Taken Into Court

Warrant Sworn Out After Crash; Defendant to Answer Charges

A 1934 Chevrolet coach was wrecked
early Sunday morning when it struck an electric light pole at West College avenue and City Place, resulting in the arrest of the driver, Harold Mc-Gownd, 26, residing at 320 Brown street. McGownd is charged with operating a motor vehicle without the knowledge or consent of the owner.

The car, property of K. G. Pennell, 809 East State street, disappeared from its parking place on South Main street between 11 and 12 p. m. Saturday. Pennell notified police, and a search was started for the car.

At 12:45 o'clock Sunday morning
the machine was wrecked on College avenue. McGownd's arrest followed later in the morning.

In a statement signed in the presence of Chief Frank Kiloran and other officers, the defendant admitted getting into the car with another man, whose identity he does not remember.
He said he did not remember the wreck, his memory being blank until he got out of a taxicab on the square.
McGownd said in the statement he had been drinking.

A warrant was sworn out in the court of Justice A. B. Opperman, where the defendant was arraigned this morning. He was bound over to the county court under $500 bond, which was furnished by his father.

Veteran Jumps In Path of Car, Then Tries to Cut Arms

Makes Two Attempts Here
to Commit Suicide;
Taken to Hospital

A man giving his name as Martin Cannon, St. Louis, made two unsuccessful attempts to end his life here Sunday afternoon and evening. Cannon deliberately leaped in front of an automobile on the west side of the square, and later tried to slash his wrists at the police station.

After his second attempt at suicide
the man was taken to the Jacksonville
State hospital for treatment. He is a World War veteran.

Cannon first made known his presence in Jacksonville when he jumped in front of an automobile at the Ayers bank corner. He was knocked about 10 feet, but was not badly hurt.

Police went to the scene and took charge of the stranger. The name of the driver of the car was not learned.
After being placed in a cell Cannon was given his supper. During the evening police discovered that he had broken a spoon and was using it to gouge his wrists. They took away the spoon and made arrangements to have the man transferred to the hospital.

Jacksonville's Power Plant Grant Announced in Official Bulletin

Jacksonville's application for a loan and grant of $420,000 for a new municipal light and power plant has been granted by the Works Progress Administration, according to a message received here Monday from J. W. Bergthold, state director of the National Unemployment Service. The notification was received by Ralph Easley, district manager of the NRS.

The approval of the Jacksonville project is contained in Release 2-269 issued by the Division of Applications and Information of WPA. The government bulletin says:

"Morgan county, Jacksonville—Loan and grant of $420,000 to the City of Jacksonville for a municipal power plant, distribution system and street lighting system. Three Diesel generating units, with a total capacity of 2,000 KE will be installed. The loan of $231,000 will be made from the PWA revolving fund and the grant of $189,000 will be paid from the new Works relief appropriation. Construction is estimated to require six months."

It has been known here for some time that the city's application was up for consideration, after having been cancelled when the city council withdrew its request. The application was reinstated after the council voted to rescind its previous action.

The government also announced a loan and grant of $37,300 to the village of Hull, Pike county, for a new water system.

A DAILY GUIDE TO ENTERTAINMENT

Rev. Paul H. Shults and Chicago Girl To Wed Wednesday

Ceremony Will Take Place in Chicago; Relatives Will Go From Here

Rev. Paul H. Shults, son of Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Shults, 873 West State street, will be united in marriage with Miss Kathleen Virginia Weightman, 1800 Madison street, Chicago, Wednesday evening in Chicago. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 o'clock in the Fullerton-Covenant Presbyterian church, Dr. George L. Robinson of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary officiating, assisted by Rev. Harold Walker, pastor of the church, and Rev. Shults, father of the groom.

Attendants will include Miss Florence Boe of Chicago; Miss Lois Marquette Shults of Lancaster, Ohio; bridesmaids; Miss Lorna Vera Olan, Chicago, maid of honor; Dean Luginbill of Lafayette, Ind., best man; Arthur C. Young, Lavinia Winterberg, Dayton, Ohio, and Harvey Throop, Columbus, Ohio, ushers.

Following the wedding there will be a reception for friends at the church and a dinner and reception for members of the immediate families and members of the wedding party in the old home of Mayor Ramsey.

Rev. Mr. Shults and his bride will later depart for a wedding trip through northern Indiana and through Illinois. They will be at home about the middle of October in Irish Grove.

Miss Weightman was graduated in 1934 from the University of Illinois where she was president of Presbyterian hall. Since her graduation she has been superintendent of the senior department of Fullerton-Covenant church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weightman, Chicago.

Rev. Mr. Shults was graduated from Illinois College here in 1931 and received his B.D. from the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Chicago, in 1934. He has since been pastor of the Irish Grove Presbyterian church.

Mattoon Man Hurt In Car Crash Near New Berlin Sunday

Arm Fractured When Two Machines Collide; Works on Camp Buildings

One man received a fracture of the arm and several other persons were scratched and bruised Sunday afternoon when two cars collided on Route 36 at the entrance to the New Berlin Rodeo grounds. James Brown of Mattoon suffered a broken arm when the car in which he was riding came out of the park entrance and struck a machine driven by James Fitzgerald of Boston, Mass.

One of the women riding with Mr. Fitzgerald was cut and bruised. The car from Boston was an Oldsmobile, and was badly damaged, as he was struck broadside. The other car was carrying several laborers employed in construction work at the local CCC camp.

Brown was taken to the office of Dr. McMillan in New Berlin and later returned to the camp, where he received attention from the medical officer. The accident occurred shortly after 4 p. m.

A.K. Byrns, Former Local Pastor, Is Retired by Church

Bishop Lynn Waldorf Gives Annual Address at Convention

Bloomington, Ill.—(P)—Suggestions that they recognize this as a significant era for religion and act to take advantage of it were before delegates at the 12th Annual Illinois Methodist Conference today.

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of Chicago said yesterday that "this is the most momentous time in history" and urged his listeners to be attentive to the major problems of the nation and the world.

The Bishop called for support of a social security program, urged leadership in a drive for peace, asked for a reawakening of interest in the fight for temperance, and pointed to "leisure time" as the "biggest problem in America."

A plea for youth was made in an evening address by the Rev. H. D. Bollinger, of the educational foundation, who urged that the younger generation be permitted to "work out the problems of the day for themselves." He said he believed "their present day religious challenge is the most significant thing in the Protestant world since the reformation."

Bishop Waldorf announced 10 ministers would retire because of age or disability. They were: T. Lee Knott, Odell; A. K. Byrns, Quincy; R. L. Shores, Loraine; J. C. Berry, Avon; C. S. McClure, Atlanta; J. W. Dundas, Kincaid; J. E. Connor, Delavan; J. T. Jones, Onarga; Ivins Chatten, Millan; G. P. Snedaker, Loda.

MacMurray Group at M.E. Conference
Alumnae Sit at Special Table During Banquet at Bloomington

A group of MacMurray alumnae and former students occupied a special table at the Educational Banquet held in connection with the Illinois Conference at Bloomington last Friday evening. The dinner was served in the gymnasium of Illinois Wesleyan University, and was followed by an interesting program of speeches and music.

Mrs. E. E. Sovern, of Bloomington, was in charge of arrangements for the MacMurray group. The McLean County Alumnae Society of MacMurray College met regularly each month; Mrs. Gladys Schall Gielow is president, and Miss Mary Emily Reid is secretary.

Those present at the dinner Friday included: President C. P. McClelland of Jacksonville; Miss Irene Orr, who is teaching in the high school at McLean; Mrs. Arline Leake Reidel, of McLean; Dr. Laila Skinner, assistant dean of women at Illinois State Normal, Normal; Mrs. Lella Broadwell Odell, and Mr. Odell, Mrs. Nellie Jolly Miller, and Mr. Miller, Mrs. Gladys Schall Gielow, and Mr. Gielow, Mrs. Ruth Ash Miller and Mr. Miller, Miss M. Maude Smith, instructor in art in the Bloomington high school; Miss Alice Smith, Mrs. Geraldine Sieber Sovern and Mr. Sovern, Mrs. Raye Ragan and Mr. Ragan, of Bloomington; Mrs. Parthena Graff Wyatt and Mr. Wyatt, of Normal; Mrs. Annette Beatrix Lohman, Miss Rachel Lohman and Mr. Lohman, of Ashland; Mrs. Mary Hall Nordling and Mr. Nordling, of Bement; Mrs. Ella Cox Buckthorpe, Mrs. Esther Kirk Blair and Mr. Blair, Miss Genevieve Mount, alumnae secretary of the college, of Jacksonville; Mrs. J. H. Singleton, a former faculty member and Mr. Singleton, of Havana; Rev. and Mrs. Arthur S. Chapman, of Normal, and Rev. Charles Thrall, a member of the board of trustees.

Clarence W. Schewe Weds Miss Robbins

Rites at Lutheran Church Parsonage Unite Two Prominent Families

In an impressive ceremony performed at noon Sunday, Miss Evelyn Robbins, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Robbins of Alexander, became the bride of Clarence W. Schewe, son of Charles Schewe, also of Alexander.

The wedding took place at the home of Rev. J. G. Kuppler, pastor of the Salem Lutheran church of this city, with Rev. Kuppler officiating in the presence of near relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride wore a dark blue tailored silk suit, with accessories to match. Her corsage was of gardenia.

Mrs. Schewe was for the past nine years cashier and bookkeeper at the Kline's Department store of this city and Mr. Schewe is a well known farmer of this county. The marriage unites two prominent Morgan county families.

The bridal couple left immediately after the ceremony for a trip to New York and the eastern states. Following this they will return to their furnished home on their farm north of Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Harney on Vacation See Colorado Springs Institution

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Harney have returned from a week's vacation spent visiting at Albuquerque, N. Mex., with Mrs. Harney's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Williams, and at Colorado Springs, where they visited the National Printers' Home. Mr. Harney is the recording secretary of the local Typographical Union.

Speaking of the home, Mr. Harney said today that the 300 residents have all the comforts of a first-class hotel. The home represents an investment of $7,000,000 and is the property of the National Printers' Union. Each member of the union pays $4.80 a year for the maintenance of the home. When a printer reaches the age of 65 and is incapacitated, he may go to the home and spend the remainder of his life, without any expense whatever.

Each resident of the home is given two suits of clothing, two pairs of shoes and two hats each year. He has the benefit of a fully-equipped hospital, with three physicians on duty all the time. A doctor is thus available for service at any hour of the day or night.

Mr. Harney visited with Frank Smith, a resident of the home, who formerly lived in Beardstown. He was at one time employed in the Jacksonville Journal composing room. Mr. and Mrs. Harney had supper at the home.

It costs $1,000 a day to maintain the home and the large estate in which it is located. There is a dairy on the property.

Local People Visit National Printers' Home During Tour

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Harney on Vacation See Colorado Springs Institution

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Harney have returned from a week's vacation spent visiting at Albuquerque, N. Mex., with Mrs. Harney's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Williams, and at Colorado Springs, where they visited the National Printers' Home. Mr. Harney is the recording secretary of the local Typographical Union.

Speaking of the home, Mr. Harney said today that the 300 residents have all the comforts of a first-class hotel. The home represents an investment of $7,000,000 and is the property of the National Printers' Union. Each member of the union pays $4.80 a year for the maintenance of the home. When a printer reaches the age of 65 and is incapacitated, he may go to the home and spend the remainder of his life, without any expense whatever.

Each resident of the home is given two suits of clothing, two pairs of shoes and two hats each year. He has the benefit of a fully-equipped hospital, with three physicians on duty all the time. A doctor is thus available for service at any hour of the day or night.

Mr. Harney visited with Frank Smith, a resident of the home, who formerly lived in Beardstown. He was at one time employed in the Jacksonville Journal composing room. Mr. and Mrs. Harney had supper at the home.

It costs $1,000 a day to maintain the home and the large estate in which it is located. There is a dairy on the property.

Eleven Lettermen Return to Virginia--But Road is Rough

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles concerning the prospects of football teams near this city.)

Virginia—There are 11 lettermen among the 33 men out for the Virginia high school football squad, but the road is rough for these youngsters, who as their coach, Paul Auwarter, so aptly describes the situation, "didn't know a football from a checker set last year." The fact that there are 11 lettermen doesn't mean that Virginia is sitting in the king's row—far from it.

But the boys did learn the difference between a checker set and football last year, and found it to their liking. The school reopened its football schedule last year after two years of doing without the sport, and gave a few opponents a tough battle. They were far from set-ups, giving Carrollton, Illinois Valley champion, a hard run, and defeating Winchester, among others.

Captain "Red" Gerald Darland, fullback, Everett Mullen and George Stambaugh, halfbacks, and Gayle Ray or Ray Griffin, quarterbacks, make up a quartette of ball carriers who have gone through one season together and are still eligible. Griffin, however, probably will be moved into a line position, where he will see a lot of the boys who did a lot of blocking for him last year.

Veteran linemen are Bob Meneses and Frank Jarrett, ends, George Wilhite and Ures Barker, tackles, Stanley Newberry, center, and James Lyons, a guard. With Griffin in the line, it means that Virginia will put on a field an entire team wearing letters denoting one year of service.

Open at Winchester. That appears to be the line-up that will prevail when the Red Heads open their season with Winchester on the Scott county grid Sept. 20. There is a possibility, however, that some of the second stringers will come in starting positions, or that some of the third team boys will get their names in the first line-up of the year.

Coach Auwarter has scheduled eight games for his charges, four of them in the Spoon River conference. Four of the games with Industry, Carrollton, Jacksonville and Beardstown, will be played on the Virginia field, and the other four, against Winchester, Converse of Springfield, Table Grove and Rushville, will be played away from home. The coach feels a little bit more like he is walking upon firm ground this year, because he has three teams out for the sport. When football was resumed last year, there were hardly enough players to make two full teams, and much of the time practice had been to be conducted without two teams present. There was much danger of suffering crippling injuries that the team necessarily had to do without some of the scrimmages that would have aided in working out details.

Right now, the Virginia line averages 158 pounds and the backfield 152 pounds. Darland tops the backfield with his 170 pounds of flaming inspiration, and Barker and Newberry are the standouts in the line as to weight, with 170 pounds each. Bob Meneses, an able pass snatcher, weighs 165 pounds, and his wing-mate, Jarrett, 160 pounds, are going to be difficult men to handle.

Plenty of Replacements. For replacements Auwarter has Watson Sinclair, a 140 pound quarterback, Harry Schoonover and John Knight, 145 and 139 pound halfbacks, and James Hiller, 144 pound fullback. Virgil Mallicoat, 135 pounds, and Bud Hoppin, also 135 pounds, are two of the reserve wingmen, with Seabold and Watkins, a couple of freshmen, ready to be called upon. George Peterson, 165 pounder who keeps looking better and better in one of the tackle jobs, probably will see a lot of service. Russell Johnson, tackle, 140 pounds, also is showing evidence of filling a tackle position before the season is over.

Two heavyweights, as high school guards go, are available for replacements. John Sinclair, 180 pounds, and Charles Mefford, 180 pounds, are getting along nicely. Lee Reynolds is learning the pivot assignment with a view to a little work this year. Virgin and Meade, two freshmen tackles, Cramer and Dick Lyons, guards, and Orr, center, are other replacements.

The worst has not yet come, either in Virginia football. There are six seniors, nine juniors, seven sophomores, and 11 freshmen on this year's squad. The schedule is as follows: Sept. 20—At Winchester. Oct. 27—Industry here. Oct. 4—At Table Grove. Oct. 14—At Converse (Springfield). Oct. 18—Carrollton here. Nov. 1—At Rushville. Nov. 11—Jacksonville here. Nov. 15—Beardstown here.

Three Little 19 Teams Play Soon

Five New Coaches to Make Appearance This Year; Many Open Today

Chicago—(P)—Stepping into intercollegiate competition after less than two weeks of practice, three members of Illinois' Little 19 loop will open their 1935 football schedules this week, against non-conference foes.

Carthage college, one of the first to begin drills, will lead the rest of the field into action with a Wednesday night game on the Burlington (Ia.) Junior college gridiron. Illinois Wesleyan will swing into its schedule Friday night at Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, against Christy Flanagan's Duquesne eleven. McKendree will meet the Scott Field Flyers at Lebanon Saturday.

Five new coaches will make their debut in the conference this season. The center of attraction among the new tutors will be Pete Reynolds, who has been optimistic enough to predict that the Knox losing streak—now standing at a world record-tying total of 27—will be snapped before the end of the season.

Reynolds was to get his first look at his assembled group of Old Siwash huskies today, at the first practice of the season.

Harry Bell, formerly a member of the coaching staffs at Lombard and Butler, will direct the grid destinies of Illinois Wesleyan. Bell also has assumed the duties of athletic director. Wendell Smith, former end on the Occidental (Calif.) college eleven, met a group of 75 candidates last week as he took up the position as coach at Wheaton college. John MacNamara, basketball coach at St. Viator last year, will handle the football team this season, succeeding Ray Murphy.

At Charleston Teachers' college, Winfield Angus succeeds Charles P. Lantz who gave up his coaching duties after 24 years of service. Lantz' resignation left William McAndrew, of Carbondale Teachers, dean of the Little 19 mentors with more than 20 years to his credit.

Along with Knox, Bradley, Illinois College, Monmouth, Millikin, and North Central were to stage their first practices today.

A. L. McCall Defeats Dr. Frank For Title

A. L. McCall, long hitting Country club player, came back in the afternoon Sunday to defeat Dr. Walter Frank for the Country club championship, overcoming a morning lead to win by a three up one to play score.

Dr. Frank turned in an 81 over the first 18 holes to take a one up lead at the end of the morning's play. McCall finishing with an 82.

McCall turned the tables in the afternoon, however, and clinched the match on the 35th green.

McCall will play Floyd Craft, of Nichols park, for the city match play championship.

George Lang of Virginia spent Monday in Jacksonville transacting business.

Concord shoppers in the city Monday included Miss Margaret Wegehoff.

41 Players Report As Blueboys Open

Nusspickel Puts Boys Through Two Drills, Plans Two More for Today

Forty-one players, 15 of whom saw service in Illinois college games last year, reported to Coach Raymond Nusspickel for a double edged drill yesterday as the Blueboys opened work for the football schedule which will open Sept. 28 at Kalamazoo, Michigan. Still missing one of its co-captains, Abe Feduris, 240 pound tackle, the Blueboys went to work under the direction of the coach and the remaining captain, Louis Davis, center of last year's varsity team. Two complete backfields were included in the list and the remainder of the men who have seen service in the line.

That the freshman class will provide a few boys for the varsity squad is almost a foregone conclusion in view of the fact that one tackle and two end positions are wide open. The Blueboys were weak in the tackle replacements last year, and unless something unusual happens within the next two weeks they will go into their first game in virtually the same condition. Capt. Davis may be shifted to tackle if another capable center can be found. Willis Munger, all conference guard of last year, and Vernon Ford, another guard, and Mefford Kurtz, tackle, were line veterans who reported. Coach Nusspickel said after yesterday's session that he had not had time to figure out from where the replacements for these men would come.

Nusspickel's worries over a backfield appear to be slight, if he is content to use the same boys who lost only one decision last year. Tony Donat, quarterback, Russ Speuhr and Sammy Mangieri, halfbacks, and Nick Watts, fullback, one of the backfields, and Ray Smith, fullback, Alfred Lambaio, Dan Stucka, and Ed Hansen, halfbacks, and Kenneth Mann, quarterback, along with Howard Clem, who played much of the backfield positions last year, also have returned.

Raymond Wafler, reserve guard who showed a lot of promise toward the close of last season, Clarence Jones, a back, Dewey Morberg, another promising back, William Jones, Bruno Monti, Zane Zaker and A. Frey, members of last year's squad, are out seeking places this year.

Fred Coleman, pass snatching end who is out for his fourth year seeking this time. His chief threat lies in his ability to snag tosses, and his aggressiveness. Two freshmen, however, appear to be his biggest opposition. They are Clarence Lorenz, all-league end from Carl Schir high, Chicago, and Robert Pittman, all-southern Illinois end from Fred Johnston's West Frankfort High school team.

Another youngster who comes with a good reputation is Truman Reynolds, guard from Weldon Zimmerman's Carville team of last year.

William Wilson, a pint-sized halfback from E. St. Louis, also has been given a lot of recommendation, but his size will militate against him. Kalleux, who was voted the best athlete in Foreman High school, Chicago, also has enrolled, along with Elmer Bluthardt, another Foreman High graduate. Kalleux played quarterback on the Chicago eleven. Allen Patterson, a graduate of Crane High, Chicago, is seeking one of the end positions.

Three Springfield youths, Jack Hartons, an end, George Rowland and Francis McMurray have taken out equipment. Johnston City has contributed Joe Vermetti, a lineman, and Taylorville has sent Gale McVard, another probable lineman. Mike Zupisch, star student of Mt. Olive, is another candidate, along with Gant Redman, a hard working youngster from E. St. Louis. George Waller, cousin of Bob Miller, last year's end of Maroa, also has reported.

Burns Delays Grid Drill for One Day

Tigers to Get Busy Today; Burns Returns from Deaf Olympics

Illinois School for the Deaf's opening football drill was delayed for one day while Coach S. Robey Burns prepared equipment his Tigers will use this year, the coach arriving in town over the week-end after spending some time in London coaching the two United States entries in the Deaf Olympics.

Many of the deaf school athletes arrived in the city yesterday, but Coach Burns delayed the opening drill until more of them are present. Most of the boys are expected to report in good condition.

The United States placed sixth in the international deaf games, despite the fact that only two athletes from the states were entered. John Chudzikiewicz, weight man, set a new record in the javelin throw among other things accomplished by the two I. S. D. athletes who competed.

White Sox Whip Senators 9 to 1

Washington, Sept. 16.—(P)—Sad Sam Jones, veteran White Sox right hander, limited the Senators to four hits today as Chicago battered a pair of Washington pitchers for a 9 to 1 victory.

The White Sox fell on Bump Hadley who started, for three runs in the first and continued to batter him and his successor, Jack Russell, freely. The Senators scored their only run in the sixth. Luke Appling, Chicago shortstop, got five hits, including a double in five trips to the plate.

Browns Wallop Yankees 5 To 2

New York, Sept. 16.—(P)—With Harland Clift and Ed Coleman accounting for four runs as they each drove out a homer, the St. Louis Browns turned back the New York Yankees 5 to 2 in the opening game of the series today. New York's defeat, coupled with the Tigers' victory over the Red Sox, dropped the Yankees 9 1/2 games back of the league leaders.

Clift drove in the first of his two runs with a triple in the second and hit for a circuit with the bases empty in the fifth. Coleman connected with a four-bagger with one on in the sixth.

Pirates Defeat Braves 5 To 3

Pittsburgh, Sept. 16.—(P)—The smallest crowd of the season—less than 500—saw Pittsburgh beat Boston 5 to 3 today, aided by spectacular relief pitching by Rookie Mace Brown.

Brown relieved the veteran Guy Bush in the third after the Braves had tied up a three run lead. Boston didn't get another safety until the ninth, when Wally Berger belted out his third double of the game.

Gus Suhr, Pirate first baseman, played the last inning and ran his string of consecutive games to 618, a new National League mark. Eddie Brown set the old one of 618 with the Dodgers and Braves from 1924-28.

Score: Boston 010 200 000-3 7 0
Pittsburgh 300 100 100-5 12 0

Reds broke up a battle of rookie pitchers today, his eleventh-inning single giving the Cincinnati Reds a 3 to 2 decision over the Philadelphia Nationals.

His blow came with one out and two on, after manager Charlie Dressen of the Reds juggled pinch-hitters as Prin replaced Blvin on the mound. It scored Bottomley, who had walked and advanced as Riggs sacrificed and Lombardi walked.

New Series Opens For Softball Teams

One Of Four Leagues Winds Up In Tie; Announce Week's Schedule

Because Night Kitten Ball, as promoted by the Y.M.C.A. this year, is proving so popular to both players and spectators, and because the season was so late getting under way, Y.M.C.A. Secretary Hermann has announced that another round of games will be played if the weather permits. Except for tied and postponed games which are to be played off Monday and Tuesday nights, the first round ended with the games Saturday night.

In the new series there can be no changes in the playing squads without the consent of all of the managers of the teams of that division of the league. New blanks for listing the players for the coming series have been handed out to the managers of all teams, and must be returned to Y Secretary Hermann by Monday night if the team expects to enter the new series.

The standing of the teams through Friday night was as follows:
Girls' League: W. L. Pct.
State Hospital Girls 4 0 1.000
Jacksonville Girls 4 1 .800
Clothier Girls 2 2 .500
Weyand Girls 2 2 .500
New Method Girls 0 3 .000
Ford V-8 Girls 0 3 .000
League "A": W. L. Pct.
Fox-Ilinois 4 0 1.000
Lions 4 1 .800
C. C. C. 3 2 .600
Andre & Andre 1 3 .250
Cogriffs 1 3 .250
Amalgamated Clothiers 0 4 .000
League "B": W. L. Pct.
A & P 1 .500
Ideal Bakers 4 1 .800
Power & Light 3 1 .750
DeMolays 1 2 .333
Perless 4 2 .250
New Method 0 3 .000
League "C": W. L. Pct.
Shoe Workers 4 0 1.000
Alcazar 4 1 .800
Piggly Wiggly 3 2 .600
International Harvester 2 3 .600
Lukeman Motor Co. 3 0 .000
Clothiers, 2nd Team 0 3 .000

A secret committee has been appointed to make such re-arrangement of the teams in the leagues as may seem advisable in the interest of balance and comparative strength. The results of their findings will be reported with the announcement of the new schedules early in the week.

The remaining games of the present series are as follows:
Monday, Sept. 16
6:15—Demolay vs. New Method Men.
7:30—New Method Girls vs. Ford V-8 Girls.
8:45—Fox-Ilinois vs. Amalgamated Clothiers first team (which is the play-off of a tie game).

Tuesday, Sept. 17
6:15—Shoe Workers vs. Lukeman Motor Co.
7:30—Cogriffs vs. Andre & Andre (to play off a tie).
8:45—New Method Girls vs. Amalgamated Girls.

There is no admission charge for spectators who wish to attend these games which are played in the field at Nichols park. The lights, installed under the direction of the Y.M.C.A., make the playing field almost as light as day. Any who have not attended and gotten the thrill of seeing some of this fine sport are cordially invited to attend.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—(P)—Cleveland took the series opened from the Athletics today, 8 to 5, before a crowd of less than 500, the season's low.

Both starting pitchers, Clint Brown for the Indians and Marcus for the A's failed to last, Brown being knocked out in the second inning. Herman Fink, a Mack newcomer who relieved Marcus in the fifth, gave only one hit, a scratch infield single.

Bob Johnson, for the A's, hit his 27th home run in the eighth.

Official of J. Capps and Sons Firm 50 Years;
Highly Respected

Word of the death of Alfred Tomlin Capps on Sunday morning brought sadness to a multitude of friends, many of whom had known him well during most of the more than seventy years of his life in this city, for his life was an open book, known and read of all men and contained no blurred or blotched page.

Mr. Capps was born in Jacksonville on November 19, 1863, the son of Stephen Reid and Rhoda Tomlin Capps. After leaving high school Mr. Capps entered Illinois College, became a prominent member of Phi Alpha literary society and graduated with the class of 1885. He immediately entered the firm of J. Capps and Sons Ltd., in which organization he held important offices for fifty years.

Mr. Capps has always been deeply interested in the welfare of his fellow citizens and the development of the city of Jacksonville. For many years he was active not only in the work of the Y.M.C.A., the Anti-Saloon league, of which he was an officer, and the Legislative Voters League, but also in the affairs of the City Council and Grace Methodist Episcopal church, of which he was a loyal and devoted trustee.

Mr. Capps was also an Odd Fellow, a Mason and a life long member of the Literary Union.

An inheritor of a fine tradition of probity, he carried it forward worthily and his every choice and act he added

Common Sense
about
HEADACHE

Usually a headache is due to high nerve tension. At such times all you need is a little Capudine. This remedy is very effective because it quickly soothes tense nerves and eases pain.

Of course headache may come from more serious sources. Sometimes it may be an abscessed tooth, or some underlying cause which only your family physician can discover. Meanwhile, avoid suffering as much as you can by using Capudine.

Capudine's action is unusually quick
because it is liquid and its ingredients are already dissolved. No narcotics.

Lawson Little Has Earned Place in Sun

Golfing Records Show 31 Match Play Wins in Row; Sets Record

New York—(AP)—There's no longer any question of Lawson Little's place in the golfing sun. The California amateur has taken over the throne of amateur supremacy, abdicating by Bob Jones five years ago, and demonstrated convincingly over a two-year winning streak that he ranks with the great Georgians as a shot maker.

It is doubtful if Little ever will equal the supreme feat Jones achieved in 1930—the grand slam of four major championships in Britain and America. The Californian has a long way to go before he comes even close to rivaling the eight-year record of 13 national titles collected by the Georgian. Yet his development has been so rapid and sensational within two years and his domination of the amateur field is so complete today that it is no longer safe to suggest where Little is going to stop or be stopped.

The professionals already are regarding the amateur king with considerable admiration as well as apprehension. They have had the open championships to themselves, at home and abroad, since 1933 with the exception of Johnny Goodman's triumph in 1933. It appeared Goodman was the simon-pure player most likely to attempt filling the big pair of shoes left by Jones. Johnny's still a fine shotmaker and a first class competitor, but Little has jumped several notches ahead of him and the gap is widening.

The Californian was low amateur in the American open last year. He was low amateur at Augusta this spring with 288, nine strokes in front of Jones. He finished fourth, with 289, in this year's British open. He has given an amazing exhibition of par-cracking in scoring two successive "double slams" in amateur competition to prove he can stagger old man par as well as his opponents.

At Cleveland Little was exactly 10 strokes under par for 156 holes. This is unquestionably an all-time record in 39 years of American amateur championship play. The best mark Jones compiled was at Minikahda, in 1927, when he finished ten under par for 152 holes.

Like a true champion, Little was at his peak in the final match to repulse the scrappy challenge of Oklahoma's Walter Emery, 4 and 2. The Californian finished with an eagle—his second on the same hole in as many days—to end Emery's last hopes in one of the most exciting championship matches since George Von Elm beat Bob Jones in 1926 at Baltusrol. Emery was only one over par for 34 holes but his most persistent and courageous efforts were insufficient to crack the champion's fighting armor. It was the Oklahoma's first bid for the title and stamped him as a rival for Little to reckon with over the next few years.

Interment was made in Calvary cemetery, the casket bearers being Frank Sullivan, Harry Norris, Zed Bell, James McGrew, Frank Kiloran, George Stoldt, Charles Thompson and John Reuter.

Tulane Coach Sees Dash in 1935 Team

Makes Long Talk About His Hopes; Expects to Use Many Passes

(This is another of a series of prospects of major football teams.)

BY RALPH WHEATLEY

Associated Press Staff Writer

New Orleans—(AP)—Big men usually are silent men. Big Ted Cox, Tulane's head coach, standing six feet four and weighing 350 pounds, is one of them. And sports writers generally have to be content with a few grunts when it comes to discussing his team. But this year he gave voice.

"The old saying among coaches that the flowers that bloom in the spring will in the fall do not apply to this squad. So far the cream of the crop of the spring is looking better than they did last spring. I am well pleased with the outlook."

For Cox this is fluent speech. If he says that much he must be bubbling over with enthusiasm for the 1935 Green Wave. And he has basis for optimism. If his sophomores settle down to a steady pace early in the season there is no reason why he should not stretch a bright light across the football sky.

The pass, both forward and lateral, will be the main spring of the offense. The backfield holds three halfbacks who have mastered the technique. Barney Mintz, captain and last year's star, Dick Watson and Troy Odom, the last two sophomores, can throw a football like a baseball, run like a deer, kick like a mule and block like a wall. They weigh 130, 200 and 185 respectively and they have brains to go with their brawn.

The quarterback position may be taken as a weakness if there is one. Dick Page is the only experienced quarter but Wilz Ott is developing. All in all, it will be a fast, brave, powerful team capable of threatening any eleven. Even Minnesota, on a murderous schedule, which also includes Colgate.

The schedule: Sept. 18, V. M. I.; Oct. 5, Auburn; Oct. 12, Florida; Oct. 19, Minnesota; Oct. 26, Sewanee; Nov. 2, Colgate; Nov. 9, Georgia; Nov. 16, Kentucky; Nov. 23, Louisiana Normal; Nov. 30, Louisiana State University.

Minneapolis Takes Association Crown

No Play-Off System to be Followed This Year; Teams Get Pool

Chicago—(AP)—The 34th championship season of the American Association was history today, and for the first time since 1919, nothing in the way of a playoff or "little world series" was to be played.

The title, clinched several days ago, went to the Minneapolis Millers for the sixth time since the league was organized in 1902. The Indianapolis Indians finished second, five games back of the Millers, with Columbus, the 1934 champions and Kansas City, tied for third place. St. Paul was fifth, with Milwaukee, Toledo and Louisville following in that order.

While the playoff system, used for the past two seasons, and the "little world series" had been dropped, members of the first four teams picked up extra money through a $20,000 bonus plan. Minneapolis gets $3,000, Indianapolis receives $6,000, while the $4,000 and $2,000 for third and fourth places will be split—$3,000 each to Columbus and Kansas City.

The association refused to meet the International League winner in the "little world series" when the latter organization declined to drop its playoff.

BILL TILDEN TAKES PROFESSIONAL TITLE

New York—(AP)—Bill Tilden, veteran tennis champion, today had supplanted the Czech, Karel Kozeluh, as national professional singles champion.

Playing on the courts of the Terrace Club in Brooklyn yesterday, Tilden ousted the old rival in a five set struggle, 6-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-6, 6-4.

In the doubles finals, the defenders, George Lott and Lester Stofen, defeated Alfred H. Chapin and Morton Bernstein in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

13 Persons Killed In Auto Accidents During Week-end

Seven Traffic Accidents in Chicago and Six Downstate, Report Shows

Chicago—(AP)—Death rode Illinois streets and highways during the week-end to claim 13 lives in automobile fatalities. Four pedestrians were among the victims.

Seven traffic deaths were recorded in Chicago and six were listed for the downstate area.

Stanley Talbot, 24, of Galva, was killed Saturday night when a truck he was driving overturned and pinned him beneath it. At Staunton, Charles Volkar, 14-year-old high school freshman, died when the car he was driving collided with another at a street intersection.

Injuries suffered in an accident early Saturday near Alpha caused the death of William Shunick, 25, of Galesburg. Two other men, John H. Jordan, 36, and George A. Quigley, 25, both of Galesburg, were killed in the same crash. The car in which the three were riding collided head-on with a truck. In Chicago 10-year old George W. Adams died when the truck in which he was returning from a picnic was side-swiped by a passing car.

Clifford Hanley, 37, and Arthur Hillman, 43, died in other Chicago automobile collisions.

Death overtook Frank D. McGreevy, 65, Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Charles Lashley, negro chauffeur for Mortimer B. Flynn, Republican candidate for Mayor in Chicago's last mayoralty election.

Walter Williams, 47, and an unidentified Mexican and an unidentified negro were other pedestrian victims, the latter two of motorists who sped from the scene.

Richard Dunn, four years old, met death Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile as he crossed a street in Pithian to get an ice cream cone.

Tom Mooney To Go Before High Court In San Francisco

Nears New Climax to 20 Year Fight to Escape Life Sentence

San Francisco—(AP)—Thomas J. Mooney prepared for his second trip out of grim San Quentin penitentiary in his nearly 20 years' imprisonment today as a new climax neared in his long battle for freedom.

Mooney, convicted for the 1916 preparedness day bombing, will be brought here for a habeas corpus hearing ordered by the California supreme court. The hearing opens tomorrow.

In 1932, the convict appeared here at a "trial" on an unused indictment growing out of the bombing, which resulted in a directed verdict for acquittal but failed to change his status as a prisoner.

A. E. Shaw, veteran San Francisco attorney who never has been connected with Mooney's case, has been instructed to take testimony on these issues:

Congrats to Sam Braden who permitted a broadcast of Sunday's sell-out attraction between the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Giants. But there were a hundred other like us who didn't dial them until after the Cubs had polished off Brooklyn.

The demand for duets to Sunday's game was such that a wire from this column early Saturday morning brought the response that there were only extreme right and left field seats available. Another wire in the middle of the afternoon got seats—but we don't know where.

One of the things that sets us wondering is the various reports that come out of Max Baer's training camp. Eddie Briez, who writes a strip for the Associated Press, says "what impresses you most about Max Baer's comeback efforts is his endurance. It used to be he was good for about a minute and a half of fighting in each round... Now he can step the entire three minutes at full speed... and he has been doing that for nine and ten rounds."

Grayson, N.E.A. service writer, also says Baer is in better condition than ever before. Maybe Max is going to make a fight out of his bout with Joe Louis the latter part of this month.

Sulo Mattson, who did some flinging for Illinois College last spring, is back in town after spending the summer digging potash out of one of the only two mines of this character in the United States. Mattson, who is an all-around athlete, is going to pass up football this year, so he says.

The burly Finn, however, chuckles when he relates how he got his job in the potash mine, which goes down 1000 feet. He had to pitch a baseball game before he was hired. Ball players can get jobs easily in the west, he says. Mattson won seven and lost two games with the team he was playing with in New Mexico. Before he reached camp, the team hadn't won a game.

One local ball player, and one former local player, will go to Dayton, Ohio, this Friday with the Oxford Greys, to compete in the national amateur baseball tournament. Joe Bestudick, who played with Routh high, and William "Red" Muratroyd, who played with the Myers Brothers team in the Tw-Y-Light league, played with the Oxford club when they won Sunday's game at Springfield against Bloomington 15 to 1.

Jim Carnahan, Beardstown junior high sports chief, will play in the Packers, 7 to 6, at Green Bay. The margin of victory was a point after touchdown via place kick by Paul Pardonner who learned the art at Purdue.

Helen Stephens, Fulton, Mo., sprinting sensation among the women-folks, ran 109 meters, which is about 10 yards farther than one hundred yards, in 11.6 seconds Saturday to set a new record. The mark was two-tenths of a second better than Stella Walsh's world record.

Murphy wrote two of the candidates, Emilio Aguinaldo and Bishop Gregorio Aglipay, that he would do his utmost to prevent irregularities.

His assurance came after the two accused the coalition behind Manuel Quezon, the third candidate, of planning frauds at the polls.

Each of the three predicted victory for himself with apparent confidence. Onlyiterate men will vote. Women and illiterates have been disfranchised by the present government.

Besides the president, who will be elected for a six-year term, the voters will choose a vice president and 98 assemblymen.

Alton, Ill.—(AP)—A hearing has been set for Sept. 27 on a temporary injunction granted by City Judge Boynton restraining operation of taxicabs by the Alton United Cabs Inc., at a minimum rate of 10 cents.

The judge granted the injunction Saturday, acting on a motion by the Illinois Terminal Transportation Co., which claimed an exclusive franchise for the city. It operates street cars and buses.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson of Tolono, Illinois were visiting friends and relatives in Jacksonville, over the week-end.

Stephen D. Ramsour was only 27 years old when he became major general in the Confederate army. He was the youngest of all major generals at that time.

Jews Relegated to Middle Age Status by New Nazi Laws

May Not Become Citizens of Germany, Nor Intermarry With Aryans

Numberg, Germany—(AP)—The Reichstag of Adolf Hitler today relegated Jews in the Germany of the future to their position during the middle ages.

They may not become citizens, intermarry with Aryans, have intimate relations with Gentiles nor even employ Aryan servant girls under 45 years of age.

The Third Reich of the future, by unanimous decision of the 600 Hitler followers who make up the Reichstag, will be one in which Aryan citizens who "by their attitude indicate they are willing and fit to serve faithfully the people and the Reich" will be separated sharply from "belongers to the state."

Legislation embodying these points was passed last night amid scenes of unexampled patriotic fervor and approval for the course Hitler has chosen to pursue strictly along the lines laid down in the original Nazi program.

These acts inspired Der Fuehrer's followers with the hope that the rest of the Nazi tenets would be translated into practical politics step by step, just as fast as political experience permitted.

Before hearing addresses by Hitler and General Wilhelm Goering, the Reichstag itself gave a practical expression of its belief in the authority of Nazi principles.

It empowered Goering, as leader of the Reichstag, to summon it into session at will until a new set of by-laws, embodying "leadership" principles, has been evolved and adopted.

The tearing of the swastika from the prow of the German liner Bremen in New York last month and the action of Magistrate Louis Brodsky in dismissing five defendants in the case were considered by observers to have furnished, in a measure, direct cause for enactment of the laws.

One Room Schools Average $50 Pupil

9,433 One Room Schools in State, is Report

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—An average of $50 was spent for the education of each pupil attending one-room schools during the 1933-34 term, statistics released today by the office of John A. Wieland, superintendent of public instruction, revealed.

There were 9,433 one-room districts in the state, operating at a cost of $6,941,502. The average daily attendance was 138,799.81.

The highest per capita cost was in Du Page, with $91. Lake and Kane counties were second with $82 and Grundy county third with $70. The first three surround Cook county, where the assessed valuation of property is high.

Southern Illinois had the lowest cost, dropping to below $30 in Union, Edwards, Hardin and Massac counties. Officials accounted for this by the low assessed valuation and subsequent reduced revenue.

2. Whether, if perjury was committed, the prosecuting attorney or any of his associates were aware of it.

3. Whether the prosecution "willfully, knowingly, or at all" concealed or suppressed evidence that would have been favorable to Mooney.

The hearing is expected to occupy three or more weeks. At its conclusion Shaw will prepare a record for submission to the supreme court but will not make any recommendation.

Chief Justice William H. Waste pointed out a referee was named to avoid involving the court over a long period to the exclusion of all other business.

Philippines To Go To Polls Tuesday

Governor Promises First Election Will be Clean

Manila, P. I.—(AP)—Gov. Gen. Frank Murphy held the "full strength" of the government as a threat over bitter partisans today to assure that the Philippines' first presidential election, tomorrow will be a "clean" one.

Murphy wrote two of the candidates, Emilio Aguinaldo and Bishop Gregorio Aglipay, that he would do his utmost to prevent irregularities.

His assurance came after the two accused the coalition behind Manuel Quezon, the third candidate, of planning frauds at the polls.

Each of the three predicted victory for himself with apparent confidence. Onlyiterate men will vote. Women and illiterates have been disfranchised by the present government.

Besides the president, who will be elected for a six-year term, the voters will choose a vice president and 98 assemblymen.

Alton, Ill.—(AP)—A hearing has been set for Sept. 27 on a temporary injunction granted by City Judge Boynton restraining operation of taxicabs by the Alton United Cabs Inc., at a minimum rate of 10 cents.

The judge granted the injunction Saturday, acting on a motion by the Illinois Terminal Transportation Co., which claimed an exclusive franchise for the city. It operates street cars and buses.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson of Tolono, Illinois were visiting friends and relatives in Jacksonville, over the week-end.

Stephen D. Ramsour was only 27 years old when he became major general in the Confederate army. He was the youngest of all major generals at that time.

YOUTHS ORGANIZE METROPOLITAN CLUB

The Metropolitan club, a new social organization, has been organized here by a group of local boys. The club will have its rooms in the third floor of the McCoy Shoe Store building.

Workmen have been engaged for the past two weeks getting everything in shape, and in about a week the organization will move into its rooms.

In the club rooms, consisting of a lounge, a recreation room and a kitchen, the latest modernistic developments have been carried out with indirect lighting, Venetian blinds, and modernistic furnishings. The color scheme of blue and silver has been followed throughout.

At their first meeting last night, it was voted to hold their election of officers next Monday evening. Local boys active in organizing this club are John Mullenix, Harry Dowland, Rudy McMaister, Maurice LaRi, George Brown, Burnie Bergschneider, Vernon Weaver, Bob Leach, Dick Benson, Clemens Dirksen and Harold McCarty.

15 PERSONS HURT AT BAER'S TRAINING CAMP

Speculator, N. Y.—(AP)—Fifteen persons nursed cuts and bruises today as an aftermath of the collapse of the ringside bleachers at Max Baer's training camp.

The bleachers gave way yesterday as the former heavyweight champion started an afternoon workout in preparation for his fight with Joe Louis of Detroit Sept. 24.

Approximately 400 fight fans were in the stands at the time and they were dumped 15 feet in the tangle of smashed boards.

DuQuoin, Ill.—(AP)—Axom Major Revell, Perry county pioneer farmer, doesn't believe in ostentatious celebrations, even for one's 101st birthday.

Revell, who reached that age yesterday, observed that event by inviting to the First Baptist church from his home, and he later held open house for his friends.

He said he didn't want to make too much display and preferred to postpone a celebration until he was 105.

A Confederate veteran of the Civil War, he has lived here more than 70 years and appears to be in excellent health. Mrs. Revell is dead.

BALL PLAYER KILLED

Toronto, Sept. 17—(AP)—Len Koencke, outfielder, for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was killed in mid-air over Long Branch racetrack early today after a fight with the two-man crew of an airplane.

Koencke had chartered the plane at the city airport at Detroit, last night. The ship was damaged when the pilot managed to land it.

Pilot William Joseph Mulkenyuey of Detroit and his helper, Irwin Davis, were held by New Toronto police.

Police said Koencke was struck over the head with a small fire extinguisher after a wild battle.

Ashland callers in the city yesterday included Mrs. L. E. Stribbling.

Drinking Fountains Ruined by Vandals

Officials View Damage and Prepare For Search to Get Guilty Persons

Drinking fountains in Nichols park were ruined Sunday night by vandals who broke the porcelain, pulled loose connecting pipes and left the fountains damaged beyond repair. Officials Monday said the damage was the worst piece of vandalism that has occurred in years, and expect to press a search for the guilty parties that will place them behind the bars.

Park Superintendent F. A. Robinson and Basil Sorrell, president of the park board, inspected the damage yesterday morning. The police and sheriff's force has promised to run down every clue that will bring the vandals to justice.

The BLUE DOOR

Rachel Mack

BEGIN HERE TODAY
RUTH WOODSON, pretty, high-spirited girl of 19, is search of work, seeks refuge from a storm in an old stone house with a blue door in the little town of Woodson. The queer old caretaker, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as "PENNY," mistakes Ruth for a "Penny" and builds the house to her.

Ruth, needing shelter and finding love with the young man next door, JOHN McNEILL, decides to stay on a while, pretending to be a "Penny," meantime, at Graystone College, votes in a society meeting to win the love of John McNeill, her childhood hero, and plans to go to Northville.

A man known as JOHN SMITH escapes from an asylum, buys a used-car and starts for Northville.

Penny seems happy to have Ruth in the house and she notices when she is summoned to the front door by a knock. After a half hour's absence she returns to the room a changed person, furtive in her actions and concealing some mysterious secret. Ruth goes to bed, frightened.

Next day things seem normal. John McNeill, who has fallen in love with Ruth, takes her to the house of John McNeill, where Ruth spends her last time trying a gift for Penny.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XVII

AS she walked through the late afternoon shopping crowds to meet John, Ruth was struck with an idea so arresting that it stopped her. The idea was simple: that she should not meet him at all; that she should lose herself in Cleveland, the city which had been her objective, and thus solve the Gordian knot of her entanglements by cutting it with one quick stroke.

Then, just as she had decided on her course, there came the realization that it would not work at all! She was Elaine Chalmers, to John McNeill and Bertha Gibbs, and to the crowd that followed her disappearance this evening the entire detective force of Cleveland would be working on the case before midnight.

"And telegrams would be sent to Elaine's mother," she thought in consternation, "scaring her out of her wits!" There'd be scandal and headlines, of course. First they'd say "Heiress Disappears While on Visit to Mother's Old Home." Then, in a later edition, "Heiress Found Safe at College. Unknown Girl Impersonating Her Sought!"

"I must have been crazy to think of such a thing," Ruth marvelled aloud. Suddenly she was happy again. Because her noble conduct was out of the question, and because she was going to meet John presently and drive back to Northville with him. "I must have been absolutely cuckoo!"

She said the words clearly and blithely, and an impudent youth with freckles and a turned-up nose, jostling beside her in the crowd, said, "Talking to yourself, sister, or me?"

"To myself," Ruth replied, and laughed. "To the world!" And then she saw John at the hotel entrance, waiting for her, scanning the crowds a bit anxiously. Nothing else mattered.

He said, "Well have dinner here and drive home afterward. There's a good orchestra—"

THE following day John McNeill went to Pittsburgh on business, to be gone for an indefinite time. "You'll be here when I get back," he asked Ruth definitely, standing in the Hunter hallway while his car motor ran outside.

An X-ray examination showed that there was a compound fracture of the right ankle, which will be reduced this morning.

CCC BUILDINGS CONSTRUCTED AT RAPID RATE

Camp Structures Rapidly
Take Form to Replace
All Tents

Tents will soon be lowered and new frame buildings will be in use at the local CCC camp. Workmen are erecting the camp buildings section by section at a rapid rate, one of the larger buildings being completed in one day.

Good, substantial buildings are being constructed for use at the CCC camp, the wrench coming into use as much as the hammer and saw due to the nature of the structures. When the camp buildings are completed the entire unit will be housed in new quarters and ready for the rigors of winter.

While the sound of the hammer is heard through the camp, due to the fact that each building is made up of sections, the wrench comes into use as much as the hammer and saw due to the nature of the structures.

Four long barracks, ranged along Sandusky street, will house the enlisted personnel of the camp. Another long building will serve as a kitchen, mess hall and a section for serving food to the officers.

The bath house and lavatory have already been completed enough to permit their use, although there is yet much interior work to be done. This building will not only be used for a bath house, but a section will be provided for laundry use. It has a concrete floor and several showers.

There will be a building to be used as officers' quarters, one for members of the state employees attached to the camp, an army headquarters, a mess hall, a garage and a recreational hall. A dispensary, where medical attention may be obtained by the camp personnel, will also be a part of the camp.

Practically all of the frame work of the buildings for the camp has been completed, particular efforts being made for insulation against the weather and for light. One of the smallest buildings has 20 windows, thus providing a maximum of light. The roofs have special insulation that from the inside of the buildings resembles tinfoil.

Another feature of the camp will be a flagstaff from which will float the Stars and Stripes. Lieut. F. L. Merriman in command of the camp, Dr. Irving Schuman is the medical officer for the unit and the second lieutenants are C. G. Clavin and C. F. Fleisher. State men now attached to the camp include B. C. Taylor, superintendent; T. J. Shambaugh, agronomist; R. P. Weber, engineer; G. T. Hamilton, technical foreman; N. C. Pettey, principal foreman; V. E. Moore, Clyde Taylor and A. G. Brockhouse, junior foremen.

CLUB MEMBERS HOLD

STATE HIGHWAY PATROLMAN IS INJURED HERE

John Woodall Painfully Hurt
In Accident on South
Main Street

State Highway Patrolman John Woodall of Winchester, was painfully injured about 7:30 o'clock last night when his motorcycle collided with an automobile said to have been driven by James W. Root, at the corner of South Main St. and Pennsylvania Ave.

Woodall was returning from Alton, when the accident happened. Root was travelling south on Main street and turned into Pennsylvania Ave. Woodall's motorcycle struck the rear of the Root car, tossing the officer to the pavement. Root with the aid of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Killbrow, of 1715 South East street, who were driving toward the business district, picked the injured officer from the pavement and summoned an ambulance, from the Withee Service station.

The street lights were not burning, officers reported.

Woodall was taken to Our Saviour's hospital where he was given surgical treatment by Dr. Frank A. Norris.

The surgeon reported that Woodall was suffering from shock, and had bruises on his back, both arms and both legs. He remained at the hospital for further observation. It is not believed that his injuries are of a serious nature.

Woodall had been to Alton with Patrolman Harry Doolin and Stuart Reid of Virginia. The officers had escorted a group of children to the Missouri side of the Lewis & Clark bridge, the children being enroute to St. Louis to see the ball game between the Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers.

Patrolman Reid was nursing a bruised right arm last night, having collided with an automobile while passing thru Jerseyville.

Woodall's motorcycle was slightly damaged in the collision with the Root car. Root's car suffered a damaged fender and wheel, and one tire was blown out.

CHURCH CLUB HEARS TALK ON CONSTITUTION

Former Jacksonville Resident Dies Sunday
At Home

The Men's Federated Church club met at the Brooklyn M. E. church last night, the session being the first of the new year.

The meeting was given by Carl E. Robinson, who spoke on "Our U. S. Constitution."

Vocal solos "Brother Hilario" and "The Builder" were sung by Homer Wood with Miss Dorothy Jane Scott as accompanist. The new officers for the year were installed by A. C. Rice, charter member of the club as follows:

President—John Taylor.
Vice-president—John Furry.
Secretary—A. D. Hermann.
Treasurer—Ira Patterson.

Committees for the month are to be announced by President Taylor at the next meeting.

"Why should we in the age of the airplane be controlled by a constitution evolved in the day of the wheelbarrow," Mr. Robinson asked in opening his address. In the first place, he said, it is the tested experience of the past. Multiplication table is old but not displaced, the ten commandments are very old but still basic.

Since adoption of the U. S. constitution every major power of Europe except Great Britain have changed their form of government. Ours stands. "Our constitution is the result of the growth of certain fundamental principles of government as evolved out of a thousand years of experience in Great Britain."

"The constitution was written at a time when our country was in the midst of a depression even worse than the present. U. S. currency was worth less than a German mark at its lowest. Washington with all his property found it very difficult to raise money for his necessary living expenses."

There has never been assembled on this continent a group of men who knew as much about government and political economy as the group of men who met in Philadelphia in 1787 to consider the formation of this fundamental document. They finally evolved a plan of government which the great statesmen of the world have considered to be without peer. They protected the rights of the minorities as well as the majorities with a cross checking system which prevents undue governmental action which would deprive any citizen of his fundamental rights."

MRS. MILLER NAMED
DIVISION CHAIRMAN OF HOUSING GROUP

At the meeting of the members of the committee of the Women's Division of the Federal Housing Administration, Mrs. J. Marshall Miller was elected permanent county chairman of the Women's division. Miss Reece of Springfield, field representative of the Federal Housing Administration, addressed the division, which met at 7:30 p. m. in the Public Library.

Miss Reece explained how money could be borrowed to put modern improvements in the home and to beautify the home. She also pointed out that if one had twenty per cent of the cost of building a home or owned a lot and had the twenty per cent, the necessary money for building could be obtained through the government.

The object of the program is to get as much work done as possible, get men off the relief rolls, and to put money in circulation. The program will be carried out in connection with the work being carried out by the men's division.

This project is to be put before every women's club in the city and county through the representatives at the meeting next evening. In this manner it is hoped to improve the conditions of the American Home as well as to improve economic conditions.

Mrs. Merton Abbott of Naples spent Monday here shopping.

Miss Marie Erlich of Beardstown was shopping here yesterday afternoon.

PRESIDENT'S DAY OBSERVED AT WINCHESTER

Charles F. Eichenauer Is Speaker at Club Meeting

Winchester, Sept. 16.—Charles F. Eichenauer, editor of the Quincy Herald-Whig and nationally known speaker upon international relations, addressed the opening session of the general assembly of the Winchester Women's Club on the occasion of President's day at the home of Miss Virginia Hainsfurther, president of the club, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Eichenauer chose as his subject, "Things That Make Thunder." The speaker in a most able and interesting manner discussed the following six fundamental propositions which present themselves clearly as affecting American economic recovery and social progress:

1—Recovery of foreign trade for America, now a creditor nation, depends upon a policy of willingness to buy from as well as to sell to other nations.

2—Security of trade will be established definitely only by international stabilization of currencies.

3—Domestic trade awaits definite decision whether American expansion shall be within present, or under extended and amended, constitutional limits.

4—Sound public as well as private financing calls for borrowing and spending but also for keeping clear the essential objective that debts must be paid.

5—A safe American citizenry calls for sound measures of social and economic security.

6—Peace for America depends upon ability to keep out of the wars of other nations.

Preceding the address was a short business meeting presided over by the club president with Miss Ruth Reader at the secretary's table. The meeting was concluded with refreshments in charge of the program committee.

To Observe Constitution Day.
The Winchester Community High school will observe Constitution Day tomorrow with a special assembly at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at which time the school will hear a paper read by Earl H. Miner which he recently gave at a meeting of the National Research Forum upon the subject of the Constitution.
